NEVER LOST ITS NOVELTY

Why Thomas Bailey Aldrich So Highly Valued His Letter From Professor S. E. Morse.

Dr. Edward Everett Hale used to tell of an amusing letter once sent by Thomas Bailey Aldrich to Prof. E. S. Morse, whose handwriting was very illegible, says Human Life. According to Doctor Hale, Mr. Aldrich wrote as follows:

"My Dear Morse: It was very pleasing to get your recent letter. Perhaps I should have been more pleased had I been able to decipher the same. I have not been able to master any of it beyond the date, which I knew, and the signature, which I guessed at. There is a singular and perpetual charm in a letter of yours; it never grows old, it never loses its novelty. One can say to one's self every morning: 'Here's that letter of Morse's. I haven't read it yet. I think I'll take another shy at it today, and maybe I shall, in the course of a few months, be able to make out what it means by those t's that look like w's and those i's that have no eyebrows. Other letters are read and thrown away, but yours are kept forever—unread. One of them will last a reasonable man a lifetime. Admiringly yours,
"T. B. ALDRICH."

IT HAS COME TO THIS.

"What is an affinity, mother?"
"Hush, dear. Something not in the least proper."

ANCIENT CHURCH CUSTOMS.

In the age of witchcraft and superstition it was believed that the fairies built the old kirk in Glasgow and that they had a right to them; so said Mr. W. B. Paterson, lecturing before the Old Glasgow club. The accommodation afforded the parishioners was very different from the present luxurious age. There were no pews in Scottish kirks before the reign of Charles I. The people had to bring their stools with them and those that did not do this simply sat down on the floor. For the evening service parishioners likewise brought candlesticks and candles. On the question of the separation of the sexes Mr. Paterson mentioned the interesting fact that there still existed a church in the city where this rule was observed.—London Globe.

PERIL OF VOLCANIC WAVES

Few Dangers More Dreaded by Sailors Than Seismic Disturbances at Sea.

Occasionally there appears a great wave sweeping across the calm surface of the ocean in the fairest weather and when no wind is blowing. There are few perils of the sea to be more dreaded than such a wave. Fortunately these are very rare, yet more than once a ship has encountered one.

The cause of these singular waves is believed to be some disturbance of a volcanic nature at the bottom of the sea. Volcanoes exist in the ocean as well as on land; in fact, nearly all the volcanoes known are on or near the sea coast. It is easy to see that an upheaval at the sea bottom may start a billow at the surface of the water, when we remember that huge waves have been sent clear across the Pacific ocean to San Francisco by volcanic shakings of the earth on the borders of Asia.

The world under water is not only three times as extensive as that which is covered only with air, but it possesses many of the same great natural phenomena on a scale which is perhaps proportionately vast, but of whose existence we are made aware only by such indications as the volcanic ocean waves that ships occasionally encounter.

GLASS THAT WILL NOT BREAK.

Baccarat, France, has the honor of producing the first glass that is unbreakable. The new process has been successfully applied to the manufacture of lamp chimneys for use in coal mines containing much fire damp. The glass makers of Baccarat have also succeeded in increasing the elasticity of the glass. This they accomplish by adding magnesia and oxide to the ordinary crystal glass.—Success Magazine.

KEEP WATER ON REGISTER.

If you live in a house where there is a furnace always keep a vessel of water on the register and you will always have hot water and not have to use any gas in heating it.

500 BULLETS PER MINUTE.

The recently invented Benet-Mercier gun combines the rapidity of fire, range and effectiveness of a machine gun with the lightness and action of a magazine rifle. The gun is fired from a rest and held against the shoulder of its operator, who can either fire from a sitting position or lying prone. The regulation cartridge is used in clips that hold 50. A good rifleman can discharge from 300 to 500 shots per minute, if assisted in feeding by a man to fill the clips. The gun is at present undergoing a series of tests by army officers, with a view to its adoption by the government.—Popular Mechanics.
